

Our Vision: A Compassionate World

Vesper Society is a faith-based private operating foundation that envisions a compassionate world which protects human dignity and enhances human potential. Our mission is to promote social justice locally and globally by addressing critical social issues, including the provision of health services for the underserved.

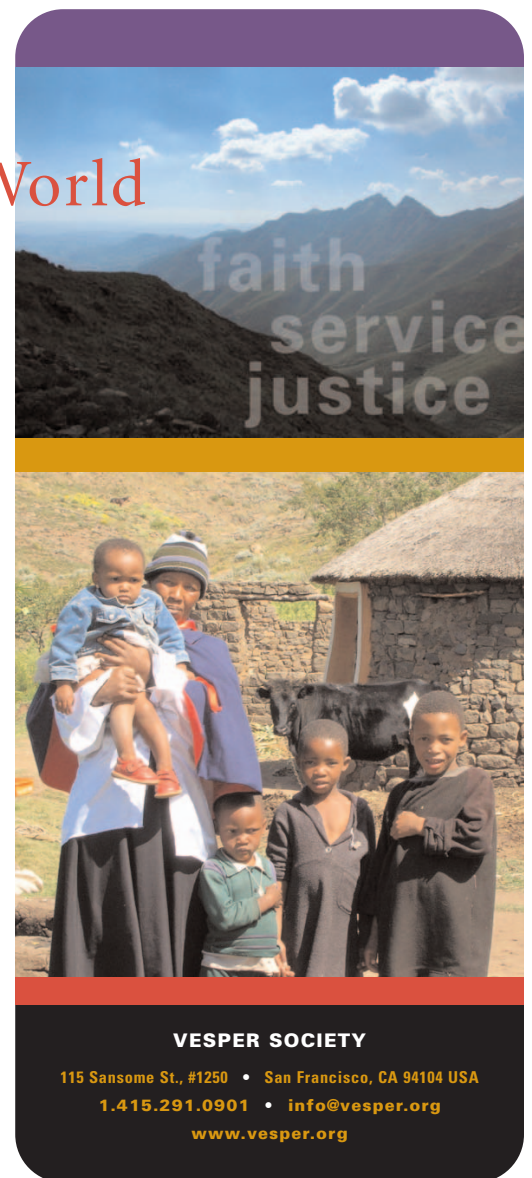

Vesper Society empowers individuals to creatively engage the most pressing issues of our time – AIDS, war, religious conflict, health disparities, and economic injustice. Since 1965, we have been motivated by a belief that individuals can make a significant difference in the world. That prospect gives us great hope.

We see synergies between those who can help and those who need help, and we bring these people together. Vesper Society acts as a catalyst to spark project ideas and build collaboration, then offers the guidance and encouragement needed for others to succeed.

Our commitment begins the moment we recognize a challenge. We invite diverse perspectives and insights from those with whom we work. Vesper Society supports the application of moral and ethical values in every project and the opening of cross-cultural dialogue. We practice partnership, recognizing our mutual dependency and celebrating the gifts that emerge in collaboration.

As a private operating foundation, Vesper Society does not give grants but selects programs where our highly skilled staff and board can have significant involvement. As a hospital conversion foundation, we designate 60 percent of our program expenditures for the provision of healthcare services.

How do we make the world a better place? That question is our calling. And we look for friends who share our passion to find answers. Vesper Society's mission is fulfilled as we accompany others on the journey toward a more compassionate world.
